Donate Toys at Juneteenth for Alabama Tornado Youth Survivors

WHO: Bring a new toy to the youth of the Beasley Brown Community Development Corporation (CDC).

WHAT: These youth are collecting comfort toys (baby dolls, stuffed animals, journals, team sports equipment) for the children of Alabama affected by the April 27, 2011, tornado. The project is titled Kids2Kids and is created, managed and operated by youth.

WHEN: The kick-off event will be at the Juneteenth Celebration, Friday and Saturday, June 17 and 18 from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

WHERE: Look for Kid2Kids near the music stage in Comanche Park, San Antonio Northwest Civic and Social Club.

WHY: Post Hurricane Katrina research has shown the long-term effect on children survivors of trauma and dramatic stress. The second edict after providing for their basic needs is to attend their emotional needs. The youth at Beasley Brown CDC want the youth of Alabama affected by the recent tornado to know they are not alone; they are connected and surrounded by love from all of San Antonio.
